The Air Cadet League of Canada Announces Sennheiser Canada Squadron Band Award Goes to Two New Bands

OTTAWA, ON - The Air Cadet League of Canada is pleased to announce that two new squadron bands will be the beneficiaries of the 2012-2013 Sennheiser Canada Squadron Band Music Award

83 Juno Beach Squadron is the newest squadron in Alberta. Their first parade was in September 2012 and they now have over 50 cadets enrolled. The squadron has also started a band with a dozen cadets eager to learn more about military music. The funds from Sennheiser will assist the Squadron Sponsoring Committee to rent instruments for these young musicians.

686 Dorval/Lachine Squadron is located west of Montreal. This squadron was established in 1958. This year, the cadets and officers decided to form their own band. With the help of the Regional Music Coordinator they were able to borrow some band instruments. The Sennheiser award will be used to buy the additional equipment required to support their new band. Their goal is to provide music at the Squadron's upcoming Annual Review in June.

In addition to a cheque in the amount of $1250 for the Squadron, each cadet musician will receive a pair of headphones from Sennheiser Canada.

Sennheiser Canada is one of the world's leading companies in the areas of sound technology. Their interest and expertise in the area of music and aviation led to an official partnership with the Air Cadet League of Canada in 2011. They are actively involved in supporting the Power Pilot program and the National Effective Speaking Competition in addition to their support of the Squadron Band Music Award.

The Air Cadet League of Canada distributes approximately $75,000 in scholarships every year to Canadian youth. For more information about the Sennheiser Squadron Band Award and other ACL Scholarships, please visit www.aircadetleague.com
