

Web Site Presentation by Kevin Debasio

Kevin has been involved with the web site for the last couple of years and this is latest version of the web site. Web site is provided for free from a former parent of a cadet from 781 Squadron. So what we have here is a quick walk through of the web site. Kevin would like pictures of different events as all we have right now is pictures I have taken.

Key Features:

- Email address to the domain aircadetleague.ab.ca can be created and forwarded to personal emails. Can also set up emails to web mail access if no personal email to forward to.
- Public and private sections: Once a person is registered the web master can assign them to a security group that will allow them to see private league info and in some cases update the info.
- Calendar: can add meetings, deadlines, competitions, bookings for adventure sites and other date sensitive information. Can send emails to registered members when dates are approaching.
- Forum: Discussions about the league, etc. Everyone can see, only registered members can post.
- Photo Gallery: can have multiple folders, random image displays on left side of main page, very Netook/Gliding centered because that is my history, registered users can post pictures but will not be displayed until approved by web master.

Options available to everyone who visits the site:

- See contact information for the executive

Options available to registered users who have been approved by admin as a member of the Alberta Committee and have a reason to see squadron information.

- View all information on all squadrons

Options available to registered users who have been approved by admin as a member of the Alberta Committee and are the person designated to update squadron information.

- Update their own squadron information

Squadron Database and Year End Reporting:

- Authorized users will be able to view or update the squadron database.
 - Select the squadron in the pull down and press "Select Squadron".

- Clicking on the link will bring up that section.
- If you are able to update the “Save Changes” button will appear.
- The Annual Report section allows entry of all the information required for the year-end report. It can be update anytime. Each squadron will have a designated person to do this.
- The display annual report displays the information.
- It is only about 80% complete at this time. Eventually there will be PDF printable version.

Future Enhancements:

- Hold history of squadrons. Currently only current CO, sponsor, etc is held
- Printable contacts list and reports based off the database.
